

WORK INTEGRATED LEARNING

FOCUS GROUP FOR NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

LJS & Associates Consulting Inc. is hosting a dynamic focus group discussion for managers, HR workers, and employers from non-profit organizations on work readiness, what it means, how to improve incoming skill sets in the workplace, and how to create a more efficient hiring process.

What does that mean?

Together, we will discuss what employers and managers can do to improve hiring decisions, enable new employees to learn more effectively in the workplace, creating a smoother transition from new arrival to contributing team member. Bring a friend, colleague, and willingness to learn!

The Issue Employers want new employees who are ready to contribute immediately. Students want a good education that leads to a good, well-paying job.

- Is "work readiness" different for these two groups?
- Does a co-op or internship placement actually help?
- What skills do you most need your new hires to have?
- How can you assist new employees to learn in your workplace?

Speaker Dr. Lesley Cooper.
Acting Principal / Vice-president Wilfrid Laurier University, Brantford Campus.

Date Thursday, July 28, 2011 — 10:00 AM – 12:00 PM

Where Laurier Brantford - Carnegie Building, 73 George Street. Brantford.

Fee FREE
Networking, light snacks and refreshments, presentation from Dr. Lesley Cooper, Q & A session, and focus group topic discussion are included.

RSVP 519.752.5527 | info@ljs.ca | facebook: LJS & Associates Consulting Inc.

Limited Seating

Be a part of academic research.

We want your voice on workplace issues that matter.

REGISTER NOW: 519.752.5527

Why this is worth your time...

- Be an integral part of academic research in your field
- Hear from Dr. Lesley Cooper, Principal of Laurier Brantford
- Discuss how to enable learning in your workplace
- Understand how to develop an efficient hiring process by asking the right questions

For additional information please contact: LJS & Associates Consulting Inc. 519.752.5527 www.ljs.ca